Updates from the Minnesota Lynx Study

January 27, 2004

Lynx on the Air

Two more lynx have been captured and fitted with GPS collars bringing the total lynx captured to 10 with 8 still alive and being tracked – 5 males and 3 females.

Lynx on the Web

The University of Minnesota has unveiled a web site at which detailed information about the Minnesota Lynx Study is available.

The public can view photos of captured lynx, see maps of their movements, and learn about the methods and results of various aspects of the study.
